DEPARTMENT OF STATE, Washington, May 7, 1858.

J. W. DENVER, Esq.,

Governor of the Territory of Kansas, Lecompton. Sin: I transmit to you a copy of the act of Congress approved 4th May, 1858, "for the admission of the State of Kansas into the Union."

The act prescribes that "at the said election the voting shall be by ballot, and by endorsing on his ballot as each voter may please, "Proposi tion Accepted" or "Proposition Rejected." Should a majority of the votes cast he for "Proposition Accepted," the President of the United States, as soon as the fact is duly made known to him, shall announce the same by proclamation; and thereafter, and without any farther proceedings on the part of Congress, the admission of the State of Kansas into the Union on an equal foot ing with the original States, in all respects what-ever, shall be complete and absolute, &c. But should a majority of the votes cast be for "Prop osition rejected," it shall be deemed and held that the people of Kansas do not desire admision into the Union with said Constitution, under the con-ditions set forth in the said proposition. They will then remain in a Territorial condition, until taken, that the ratio of representation required for a member of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States," upon which ascertainment the people of the said Terri tory "are authorized and empowered to form for themselves a Constitution and State Government" in the manner prescribed by the Act.

Under the second section of the Act, yourself, the District Attorney, the Secretary of the Ter ritory, the President of the Council and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, are constituted a Board of Commissioners, to conduct this important election. The President has entire confidence that so far as in you lies, the election wilbe fairly and properly conducted. Your power and your duties are sufficiently pointed out by the Act and by your previous instructions. It is greatly to be desired that the five Commissioners should act in concert in all their proceed ings. The President above all things desires that there should be a fair expression of the pop-ular will on this important question; and that any person who may commit or attempt to commit the fraunds punishable under the act may be prosecuted with the utmost rigor of the law. It is to be hoped that the people of Kansas, relieved from all outside influences may be left to decide the question for themselves, whether they will im mediately come into the Union under the provision of the Act, or will remain in a Territorial condition until their population is equal to the number required for a Representative in Congress.

Enclosed herewith you will receive four copies of the Act referred to, one of which you will send to each of the Commissioners named in the Act, in order that they may be properly informed of their designations.

At the same time, you will provide for an early meeting of the Commissioners, so that the elec-tion required by the Act may take place without unnecessary delay, and that all suitable arrangements may be made for this purpose. The President earnestly hopes, that these arrangements may be successful in securing a free and fair election, and that at the present important crisis the peace of the Territory may not be interrup-

The act for the admission of Kansas ought to be extensively circulated among the people, be eause the question to be decided by them is one of vast importance, and may involve the welfare and prosperity of their fine territory for a long period of years. For this reason, whilst the act shall be at as early a period after the proclamation, as is consistent with due notice thereof to the people, the intervening period ought to be sufficiently long to another the proclamation to the cabin, although I invited him to do so, the people, the intervening period ought to be sufficiently long to another the proclamation. He did not ask to see the proclamation of the proclama understand the question in all its bearings and isequences. I shall have ten thousand copies light on Carysfort Recf, the fixed light being of the act printed in this city and forwarded to changed to a revolving light, and also that there you for immediate circulation.

You will not probably convene the Board until after the appointment of a new District Attorney for the Territory. A nomination for this purpose will be sent to the Senate on Monday next.-Should you deem it advisable, you are at liberty to publish the whole or any part of these instructions. The President wishes to give every assurance to the people of Kansas, that he desires, above all things, that there shall be a fair expression of the popular will at the election; and that the result may be to produce peace and har mony among themselves and promote their lasting

An Important Decision-Rights of Free Negroes to Hold Property in Mississip-

The High Court of Errors and Appeals of Mississppi has recently rendered an important decision upon the subjects of the rights of free negroes residing in other States to property be queathed to them by will in that State. The decision was rendered in the matter of the estate of one James Brown, the owner of a plantation and slaves in Amite county, Mississippi who died in January 1856, leaving a will dated October 9, 1853, in which he directed his executor to sell his land and slaves, and after paying his debts, to deposit the residue of his proceeds of the sale in the Bank of Louisiana, subject to the draft of Francis M. Brown, and in ease of his death, to the order of Jerome M.

It appears that Francis M. and Jerome Brown. were children of the testator by a slave of his named Harriet, and that in 1850 he had them taken to Cincinnati, and thus formally emanci pated them; and afterwards purchased for them lands in Indiana, upon which they were residing with their mother at the period of the testator's death, and at whose house the testator himself died.

The Vicksburg Whig, says:

The Court reviewed these facts at great length and reached the conclusion that the testator took the slaves to Cincinnati for the pur and remained here, the emancipation would have notes and stage directions in his own hand writing, brought 300f. still have been slaves

Six: I transmit to you a copy of the act of Congress approved 4th May, 1858, "for the admission of the State of Kansas into the Union." Your duties under this act are of the most delicate and important character, but they are clear ly and distinctly defined by the act itself.

Congress were not satisfied, as you will perceive, with the ordinance adopted at Lecompton by the Constitutional Convention there assemt by the Constitutional Convention there assembled in regard to the public lands, deeming the bled in regard to the public lands, deeming the grants to the State of Kansas therein contained too extensive and beyond former precedents in similar cases. They have therefore proposed to the people of Kansas to assent to such a change in the ordinance as is stated in the act, reducing the quantity of lands granted, so as to conform to the grant in the bill now before Congress for the admission of Minnesota. This question is properly left to Kansas to be decided at a popular election.

after paying his debts, in the vaults of a foreign bank, to be paid over to the objects of the testator's bounty, even though they are free negroes; that free neggees are only debarred by our laws of the rights secured to them by the laws of oth er States in which they reside, or when the exercise of those rights is prohibited by positive law, or would be directly dangerous to our slaves, or present a mischicvous example. Had the testator left his lands and slaves directly to these free negroes, a different question would have been free negroes, a different question would have been presented from the one actually presented and

> A New York Brig Boarded Near the Florida Coast-English Vessels Permitted to Pass.

STATEMENT OF THE CAPTAIN. The brig Mianus, of New York, of which I am master, arrived here yesterday from Black River, Jamaica, with a load of logwood. We sailed on the 10th ult. On the 20th my vessel was in lat. 24 deg. 10 min. N., lon. 82 deg. 40 min. W., and only about ten miles from the coast of Florida. I was attering E, with the wind N. and was on larboard tack. There were three Eng lish vessels in company, a brig, a bark, and a ship. I saw the steamer bearing S. E. at 4 o'clock, heading west. In half an hour afterwards she clewed up her topsails, squared her yards, and run dead to windward, heading across our bow.— When she reached within about one or two hun dred vards of us, the English colors were hoisted, and we immediately hoisted ours. She went across our bows, and when directly ahead stopped her wheels; but seeing she was still ranging ahead, she backed her whicels so as to lay directly in our track. We put our helm up, and kept off to clear her, and passed so near that we could talk to-gether, but he did not hail. When we were un-der his stern he lowered a boat and beat to quar-ters. We paid no attention to him, but kept on our course. He then fired a signal gun from his starboard bow. We kept on, as it was blowing fresh, and hav. ing our topmast studding sails set, it was difficult for me to heave-to without taking in sail. A marine, standing with two or three officers on the wheel-house, then discharged his musket. The gun was not shotted. I did not know what he wanted, but concluded he wished to send some letter, and I hove to. The English vessels mean-time kept on their way, and by the time I was re-leased (about one hour) they were hull down ahead. There was a good breeze, and the Eng-lish vessels had their colors flying. A man ofwar's cutter came alongside, with about eight men and an officer. He boarded me to wind-ward, without speaking, and came aft. He had a book under his arm, and asked me several questions, the answers to which he entered in his book as I gave them. He asked the vessel's name, the name of the owner, where she hailed from, if we had seen any English cruisers, where we were bound, and what our cargo consisted of I asked him if he meant by "cruisers" men of war, and he answered he did. The book he held in his hand was about 2 inches thick and 8 by 18 inches square, and was apparently half full of vessels' names which had been boarded. I asked him what he was doing there, and how long he had been out. He said he had been four months out from England, and he was cruising between Cuba and the Florida Keys. I then asked what his object was, and he replied: "We are looking after slaves." I said, "Surely, you couldn't have taken us for a slaver!" (My deck was piled some two feet above the rail with logwood.)— hidden treasure of his heart? Cherish, then. His answer was:

"We have orders to board the whole of you." "But," said I, "you did not board those vessels ternal love.

He then bid me good afternoon, and left. The steamer meantime had put up two reefs in her topsails. and blowed off steam. I judged he intended to lay there under easy sail through the night.— When I last saw him he was heading W. N. W. I thought the officer, on the whole, rather a clev er fellow, but I did not like the detention, which was an hour or more from the time I shortened in sail and hove-to, until I got it set again and follows: The rupture between the President and Judge Douglas has been rendered more durable by re-cent occurrences. A number of very exreme Southern men, not yet prepared to break with the Northern Democracy, walted upon the President last week, and represented to him that they could not afford to drive Mr. Douglas into an alliance with the Republicans, or to permi him to be crushed by them. It was, therefore necessary to the eause of the South that Mr. Douglas should be returned to the Senate, and that event might depend upon the patronage of the Administration. Mr. Buchanan instantly betrayed strong and vindictive feeling. clared that he would not stay his hand; that it was no longer desirable to keep terms with Doug las; that he had failed the Democracy on a criti cal occasion, and was no more to be trusted by it than John P. Hale, and that he should proceed to to turn ont of office all his followers whom he could reach. He, therefore, resumed the work which he had suspended in March, and immedi ately removed three of the most effective and able friends of Mr. Douglas as a Senatorial and Presidential candidate in the Northwest.

MR. CRITTENDEN.

By a letter received by a gentleman of this place on vesterday from Mr. CRITTEN-DEN, we are authorized to say that he ex peets to leave Washington on next Tuesday, and come directly to this place, and will address the public here according to arrangements that may be made in the mean time by his friends. It is probable that Col. MARSHALL and Mr. UUDERWOOD will be with him.

There will be a meeting at this office on Monday night next, at 8 o'clock, to make suitable arrangements for the reception of these gentlemen.

We take the above extract from the Covington Journal, and we cannot express in terms too strong our satisfaction that Kentuckians are preparing to give their Senator a reception suitable to his merits, and as a testimonial of their appreciation of his able and gallant efforts to vindicate the honor of his State, and true principles of republican government, we suggest that a meeting be immediately held in Frankfort for the purpose of making arrange. ments for the reception of Mr. Crittenden at the Capital, and to appoint a committee of his friends to escort him from Covington to his home.

IF The Democracy of Kentucky have been weighed in the balance and found wanting. They came into office with loud professions of legislative reform, but have given free rein to legisla tive abuses. They have been arraigned, tried. and found guilty upon the following charge, viz: they have neglected the interests of the State. and have legislated for party ends, and have prosti tuted the public offices by making them subser vicut to party purposes

In the beginning they elected an incompetent Speaker of the House of Representatives; and mediately-should be made at once or delayed in doing so they did not consult his qualifications for the office, but merely inquired into the de mands of the Democracy of his section of the country. They cast aside Machen, an experi enced legislator, and who would have made a competent and useful Speaker, because by his itary improvements, and is now lying idle in the election to the Speakership of the House of Representatives the claims of the great traveling candidate for the United States Senatorship would be lessened, and his chances of an election to the much coveted office would have been endangered. For the Democracy from every part of the State demanded their portion of the spoils, and repudiated the idea that a Speaker of the House of Representatives and a United States Senator should both be elected from the same section of the State, no matter even if they had and the Democracy insisted in voting to expose tribe. We have received the most cheering ac been the two most competent persons to fill the respective offices. So Machen, whose superiori. ty over Dr. White no one doubts, was thrown overboard, in order that he might not interfere with the prospects of the electioncering Boyd the reviler and slanderer of Clay. But even the Democracy at last became disgusted with the trickery and the expedients of Boyd, and elected Powell, a clever gentleman, and a politician of at least fair ability, and who is the superior of Boyd in every quality of mind and heart. But even in this case the genial disposition and so vial liabits of Powell were consulted rather than the interests and dignity of the State; for it is well known that men who are superior to him in intellect, in attainments, and in ability, were cast aside to make way for him.

The next step in the programme was the efection of incompetent Clerks. To do the Demo eracy justice in this particular they elected as Principal Clerk the most competent man of al the applicants belonging to their party, and the Assistant Clerk was a most laborious copyist. But, nevertheless they were incompetent to the proper discharge of their duties. This in competency was, doubtless, attributable to their inexperience, but this does not remove the faci of their incompetency. The Democracy say that McClarty, the Principal Clerk, was sick auc that it is unfair to call sickness incompetency; but he was incompetent when he was well, and was sent and accepted? Can a man properly Here the line gave out.

McClarty came into office he did not understand tween Benjamin and Davis: and could not discharge its duties, and begged McCorkle to remain in Frankfort and assist him, rienced Assistant, a resolution was passed to employ an experienced additional Assistant Clerk, with the understanding on the part of the Ameri- If he has I am very much mistaken cans, who voted for the resolution, that Mr Davis—"Oh, I will state the very sample fact that he asks money to buy breech loading arms. Whether this $100,000 is to be paid out Clerk, however, was bullied out of fulfilling his of the Treasury I do not know." promise to appoint McCorkle and at first determined to appoint no one at all. Affairs went on in this condition for a short time longer until the business of the House became confused through the incompetency of the Clerks, and it was discovered that nothing could be done until a competent Clerk was appointed. Accordingly Major Helm was sent for, Mr. McClarty disagreeable, I hope he will keep it to himself' still retaining his seat as Principal Clerk and receiving his salary. Major Helm was at oue time one of the best Legislative Clerks in the coun try, but at the time of his appointment he was tterly unfit. We will say nothing as to the cause to properly discharge the duties of the office. Well, affairs were not much bettered by the appointment of Major Helm, and the business of the State continued to be bungled, and legislation was still retarded through the incompetency of Democratic officers. Things went on in this way, with McClarty, Helm and Wellburn as Clerks,-until about the middle of the session, at which time McClarty took sick and left the House. Major Helm being un able to transact the duties of the office, at the re quest of McClarty, Mr. S. C. Sayres, the report er for the Commonwealth, assumed the position

Clerk by general consent, and immediately all things went on well. Thus, after all, the trium phant Democracy could not get along without the ssistance of the much abused Know Nnothings. Another little item should be mentioned here. Now we do blame the Democracy for electing their own men to offices when they have the power to do so; but when they do elect their own partizans to office it is their duty to see that the State does not suffer thereby It was perfectly natural that Democrats should prefer members of their own party to Americans, but it is not right that they should disregard the interests of the State by electing incompetent partizans to be bungled, when competent persons of the op

the others was elected. This did not help matters much. At last the Democracy gave up in pure despair, and Sayres took the place of ministerial offices, thereby causing legislation to posite party can be had. The effects of bestow ug the Clerkship upon incompetent, or sick Democrats may be sumed up as follows: The State lost upwards of $1,000 in money for Clerk hire; and several laws are on the statute book which the Legislature never passed. The next step in the exhibition of the wanton isregard of the interests of the State and ol this legislature for the exclusive benefit of parti saus, was the Penitentiary affair. We have al eady placed an inefficeable mark upon the brows of the Democracy for their conduct in this matter, and it is hardly necessary to recapitulate, suffice it to say, that the Democrats in the Legislature voted to lease the Penisentiary to a favorite par tisan for $3,000 per annum when Mr Ward, who is acknowledged to be an efficient and energetic Keeper, offered $12,000 per annum, and when re liable Democrats publicly expressed themselves as being willing to that amount, or ever more for the lease. And later in the acssion, when the question came up as to whether a sewer-the want of which the Legislature had been advised was the origin of much of the ill health and mor tality of the inmates of the State Prison, and which they were urged to have constructed im for a year, they voted for the delay. There was one question of economy involved-the money which was necessary to be expended upon the sewer being a portion of a former appropriations or the extension of the Penitentiary and for san Freasury-so that the Democracy cannot escape on that ground. All parties were agreed as to the rascality of constructing the sewer. The question was, shill the sewer which is deemed so necessary to the health of the convicts be con--tructed at once and the danger be at once re moved, or shall the money lie idle in the Treasary, and the danger continue to exist for one year until a Democratic Keeper shall come into office and thus have the chances for the job? - above the smallest specimen of the feathered the lives of 250 unfortunate convicts to the immi nent danger of a pestilence, for the sake of gailing the miserable object of giving the chances for the job to a partisan.

We have many more facts of a similar charac er which we would wish to add to our bill of ville Herald. ndictment, but we have already made this artiale entirely too long. Sufficient evidence has already been brought forward to firmly es tablish our charge, that when the interests of the state or the cause of humanity clash with the interests of members of the Democratic party, the State Department vesterday. From the the latter are consulted by the Democracy.

In the telegraphic report of Thursday's pro ceedings we find the following:

No reply was made to this The bill was then the election of a Clerk and any money was to be nade out of it, he was rejected and another Democrat more incompetent, if possible, that Since then Senator Gwin has challenged Wil son. On a former occasion, when Brooks chal lenged Wilson for indulging in the very coarsest language towards him, Wilson replied that al though he would not accept his challenge, he was not opposed to exercising the right of self de fence. Some of the Northern papers called this very chivalrous on Wilson's part, but when ex amined it amounts to this: I have abused you most vilely, and do not protect myself by plead ing Senatorial privilege; I am conscientiously opposed to dueling, a custom adopted to bring about a fair meeting, on equal terms, when a dif ficulty is inevitable; because in so doing I woul have no advantage of you; but if you choose to attack, or make a demonstration of attacking me on the street, and thus place yourself at a dis advantage by giving me the legal right to kill you-when if you kill me you will probably be hung-I have no objection to such an encounter with the advantages of public opinion and the law on my side. Of course Brooks declined such a proposition. The propriety of Gwin's challenging, when he knew that Wilson could not onsistently accept, is exceedingly doubtful.

If Senators would but act like gentlemen, we would have less blackguardism, fewer duels

Our friends are poking fun at us for having ken the sex of R. A. Alexander's fine racing stallion, Ruric, and speaking of him as if he were a mare. We can't attribute the mistake to the compositors, who set up the article exactly as we wrote it. The fact is, that we did not get very near to Ruie, and we thought we heard some one use the word filly in speaking of him. and although we thought it rather strange that the name Ruric should be given to a female. we so wrote it.

Charles Lamb, the sweetest of English prose writers, was once traveling in a boat upon the Thames, while some boys were swimming in the river in full view of the passengers. An anciem maiden lady was much shocked that the boys should thus expose themselves, albeit they were at a considerable distance, and immediately com menced denouncing the "vile creatures" for their 'shocking indecency." > HOW A FRENCH EDITOR WAS CONVERTED TO BONAPARTEISM - The history of the conversion of Mons. The Emperor sem for him during the trial of Bernard, and told him that to him alone would be confide the honor of France, and the condemnation of the existing aws of England. Venillot hesitated-he did not like the aspect of affairs, which threatend the loss of caste among his own people. "My love," said he, "this s Monsieur Vouillot, the greatest defender of he Catholic interests in our day-the most inrepid and persevering opposer of the inroads of Protestantism; the most talented writer in beforee now existing amongst us." The oress bowed gracefully; her eyes lighted up with pleasure at beholding the pillar of Catholicism .-She requested the pleasure of pressing the hand which had written so much in its detence. She looked at him with the admiration she perhap-really felt—and Veuillot was lost to the Bourbons. 10 Frohsdorf, and to Purma for ever and ever.— The story is perfectly true, and Veuillot tells i himself with inimitable naicete, defying every man he meets of whatever age, tenets, or opinions, to deny that he would have done the same under similar circumstances.

OF THE "CENTRAL KENTUCKIAN."

PUBLISHED IN LEBANON, KY. Lebanou, since the completion of the Railroad, connecting it with Louisville, is a point of interest to a large section of country. There are hundreds of persons abroad who are in want of information upon various topics connected with it, such as the prices current, facilities for doing and having business done here, &c., and the citizens of Lebanon themselves, wish to inform the public at large, that it is one of tho most enterprising and flourishing towns in the interior of the State, and that it offers great inducements as a place of residence to men of almost every honorable trade and profession. To supply these wants, of people abroad and clitzens at home, we have determined to publish "The Central Kentuckian"—a paper devoted to the Commercial, Agricultural, Literary, and Moral welfare of the community is which it is circulated.

It is hoped that we shall be able, by attention to the interest of all coacerned, to supply a desideratum long felt.

During "hard times" the security of reliable Insurance is an imperative duty—the ability of property owners to sustain loss being then much lessened.
